Communism has reached its position in this country by deception. Our purpose is to educate people to what Communism really is, written in plain words for plain people. We are non-partisan, non-sectarian, and have no axes to grind. We have reliable up-to-date sources of information.

Japan's New Freedom

By Kayashi K. Kawakami, Assoc. Editor, Human Events

The Soviet propaganda offensive in Japan now causing something of a rift among the Allied occupation authorities at Tokyo, poses a grave question involving freedom of the press, of speech and assembly, of thought and religious belief. It is a question which must not and cannot be so lightly disposed of as does the New York Times by saying editorially: "The sooner General MacArthur puts an end to this (Russian propaganda) the better for all concerned."

If the Soviet liaison mission at Tokyo draws from the Allied authorities exorbitant sums and diverts, as is generally assumed, a substantial portion of the funds (which must eventually be paid by the Japanese themselves) to finance Japanese fifth columns in the form of Communist publications and organizations—if the Russian mission stoops to this morally indefensible practice, then the occupation administration must and will cut down its future appropriations.

This, however, is a relatively unimportant matter. The important question is whether Red propaganda can be stopped, and if so, how. Russia has never stinted money or pains on foreign propaganda. The paring down of Allied appropriations, for Soviet operations in Japan, would of itself cause Moscow little embarrassment.

Much more fundamental is the question whether an attempt to suppress propaganda, Red, Pink or White, can ever be justified on the ground of wisdom. Never effective, suppression usually forces open and relatively harmless propaganda to go underground and become dangerous.

II

The Allies themselves seem to recognize the unwisdom of suppressive policy. They have rescued the freedom of speech from the strangling hands of Japanese militarists and restored it to the people of Japan. Communists and Socialists, as well as Liberals and Conservatives, have in effect been invited to speak out without restraint and to discuss all matters of state as at an open forum.

The radicals accepted this invitation with alacrity, and have been enjoying a field day shouting down capitalism and the "emperor system". This is as it should be in a nation taking lessons in democracy.

What the democratic, as distinguished from the communistic, members of the occupation administration object to is not, it seems, the airing of Red ideas, but rather the Red bond which they think exists between Moscow and the Communists of Japan. As a Canadian Communist involved in the atomic bomb spy case recently admitted, Communists everywhere consider their allegiance to Moscow more important than their allegiance to the countries of their nationality.

But the Red bond, invisible and elusive, cannot be sundered by repressive measures, nor by diplomatic protest directed to the Soviet Government. Both methods have been tried in more countries than one and both have been found ineffectual. And it is not always easy to establish, save by circumstantial evidence, the existence of a link between the Kremlin and the Communists of any given country.

Enlightenment, coupled with economic betterment under capitalism, is the only effective weapon with which to cut the Red lassoes as thrown from the citadel of the ostensibly dissolved Communist International. Let propaganda of truth be pitted against propaganda of perversion.

Since Allied occupation, Communist magazines have mushroomed up in Japan. The most prominent of these, called Soviet Culture, in its current number, blandly asserts:

"Among the world's nations today only the Soviet Union has not had economic chaos or social uneasiness. There is no unemployment in Russia. Prices are low and commodities are getting plentiful. . . . The Soviet election system is far more democratic than those of other nations. . . . It is true that the Soviet people have only one

THE COMMITTEE TO WIN THE PEACE GOES UNDERGROUND IN ELIZABETH

The Committee To Win The Peace of Elizabeth, N. J., held its first closed meeting last week at the Y.M.H.A. since June the 11th, when the citizens of Elizabeth exposed the organization as a Communist front.

Mr. Harry Levin of Elizabeth who is director and sponsor of the Committee To Win The Peace of Union County made the following statement before the meeting began: "We cannot mention The Win The Peace Movement on the outside, we will have to reserve that for closed meetings, but we can go ahead and lay our plans."

The Committee To Win The Peace held two open meetings at the Y.M.C.A. in Elizabeth before veterans organizations and citizens demanded that the Committee be refused further use of public institutions.

A Government Against the People---Red Spy Trial Called a Hoax

By Upton Close

At this writing it is reported that one hundred thousand new automobiles have been shipped abroad—thirty-five thousand pleasure cars and sixty-five thousand trucks. UNRRA has delivered farm tractors to several countries in Europe, including Yugoslavia. Russia has received U.S. farm tractors and has offered to sell them to Argentina and Finland. There is a hundred miles of flexible pipe, paid for by the American taxpayer, under the English Channel.

An American farmer, called upon to raise food for the whole world, cannot get a tractor or a foot of pipe for his well or a sink for his wife's kitchen—and neither he nor the city-dweller can get an American-made automobile.

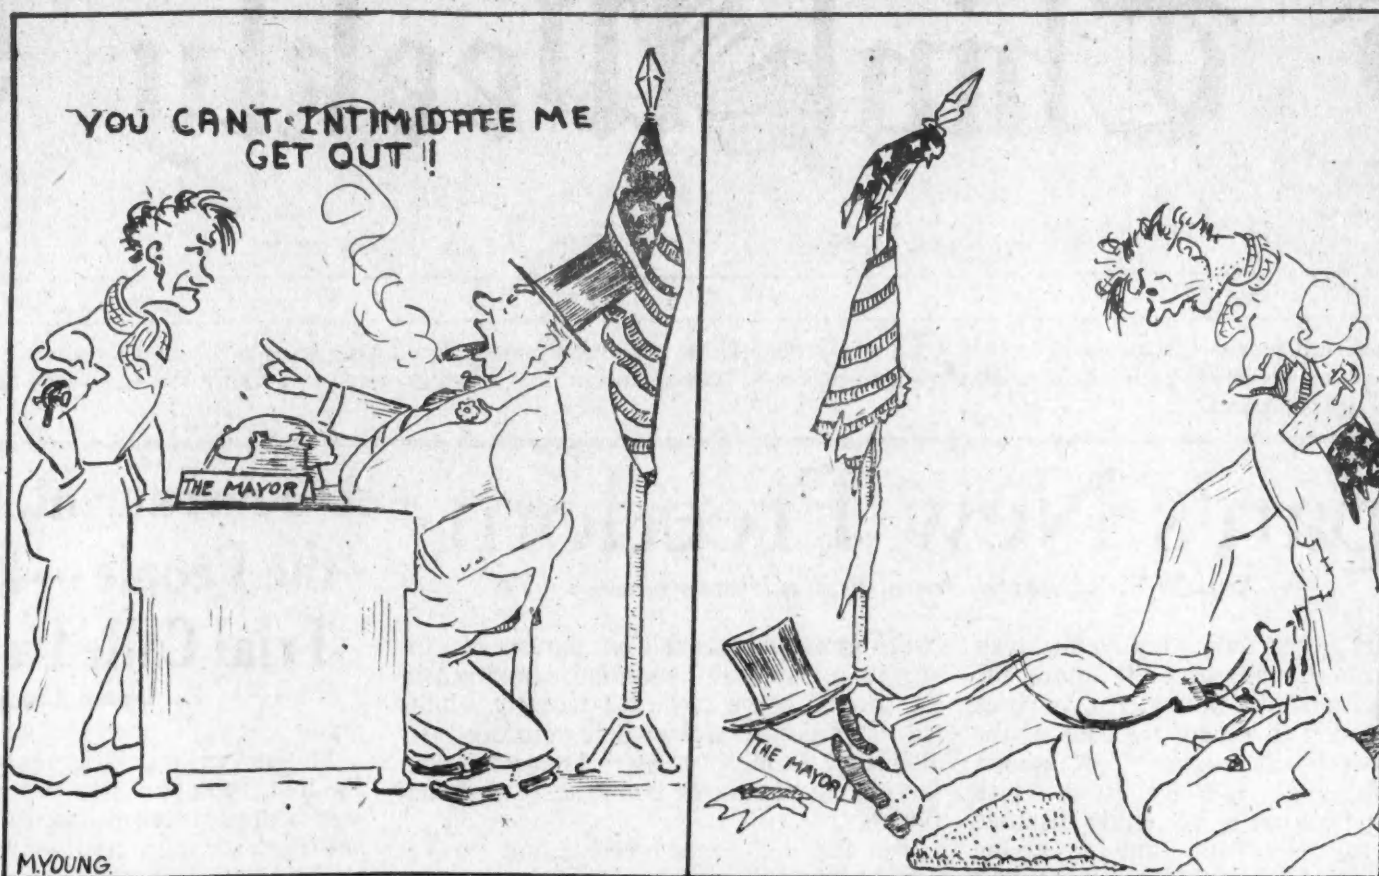

Strikes have been encouraged by government policy with political intent. In the end the strikers themselves have lost several billion dollars in wages. They have lost things to buy that they and their families have needed, and their cost of living has gone up as much as their wages.

Our boys in Europe saw acres of jeeps and trucks given away to the French, who immediately sold them at a profit. They saw other lines of vehicles and many kinds of stores wrecked by demolition squads. In the South Pacific they saw vehicles and stores abandoned or destroyed. In one instance, a stack of flying jackets some fifteen feet high and twenty feet long—the most expensive article of wear furnished to fighters—was soaked with gasoline and burned. One officer who witnessed this was ordered to bring home thirty boys in an old B-25 whose wings were loose, although hundreds of new DC-4S stood on the field. (The boys were Marines and the DC-4S belonged to the Army!) The boys nearly froze, flying at high altitude over the Pacific. There is no more exquisite torture than the misery of shivering cold in the tropics.

While stopping on Wake Island, several of them swiped cheap Navy wool blankets to wrap around their shoulders. Their own officers looked the other way—but the boys were arrested and court-martialled when they reached Hawaii.

Yet, thousands of gold-braided officers, encouraged and used as pawns by the friends of Roosevelt and by Congressmen who had imbibed the general spirit of corruption, squandered and stole at least fifteen billion

LAW ENFORCING BODIES or DOOR MAT POLITICIANS

Must We Have Government By Violence Instead of Government by Law?

In America today we have all types of Statesmen, politicians, and law enforcing bodies that are responsible for the carrying out of the laws established by our forefathers and succeeding representatives.

The American people realize how important these representatives are to the security of a country but they are not alone in their realizations. The one who has more respect for the position of the law enforcing bodies of America than her citizens, is the King of beasts and devils on earth, Joseph Stalin. He realizes that once the politicians and law enforcing bodies of a country are influenced, deceived, and payed off the rest of the way is clear sailing.

Taking this into consideration a law enforcing body cannot be both left and right. Either our representatives are definitely opposed to communism and will enforce the laws like the city officials of San Francisco did not so long ago, or the Communists are allowed to get away with murder like they did during a prolonged strike in Stamford, Connecticut.

To those Statesmen and government representatives who allow themselves to be deceived and influenced come under the head of DOOR MAT POLITICIANS. They are fooled into believing that Communism is another governmental party like the Democrats and the Republicans. They believe that by playing a little with each party they will remain in the governmental spotlight and always remain "big-time operators".

If they spent more time in informing themselves of the facts and reasons for the overthrow of the now Communist dominated countries in Europe they would discover that they are doing exactly what all the European leaders did before they were shot. Thank God that we still have some real statesmen in this country who will not let the Reds use them for a DOOR MAT.

dollars of the money raised by needling and exhilarating our willing people into buying War Bonds, according to Lindsay Warren, United States Comptroller General.

Bread on the Waters of Internationalism

Some day soon the utterly befooled American people may have suffered enough to realize what the word "traitor" means when applied to an entire government. A government that is a traitor to its people does everything it can to rob its own people and give away their assets and destroy their wealth. Never before, however, has a government which is a traitor to its own people gone to such extreme lengths that it has been happy to give away their wealth to those who neither could do nor wished to do anything in return.

It is the most amazing spectacle in human history. It is called "internationalism". It is plainly a mental disease, which would defy all diagnoses of Freudian psychoanalysis. It may be one of those mental diseases which has a definite periodicity, in which case we would come out of it and the Nation would live to a ripe old age. If not, we shall become the slaves of somebody with at least enough sanity to know his own self-interest—and soon!

Byrnes will get no European peace treaty unless it is a treaty which turns all of Europe over to control from Moscow. Moscow will get Germany. (FDR arranged that long ago.) The United States will succeed Britain as the nation most hated by Asiatics. That will come from American participation in a Chinese civil war.

From Seattle a politically conscious American woman, who is a member of a group of two thousand women workers out to educate women voters, writes of the Redin trial: "I attended the trial daily, and have never seen such a hoax perpetrated in a Federal Court. The judge allowed defense lawyers to refuse anyone on the jury who had read the following books—OUT OF THE NIGHT, by Jan Valtin, APPROACH TO THE SOVIET UNION, by former Ambassador Bullitt, I CHOSE FREEDOM, by KRAVCHENKO, or other books and columns not utterly pro-Russian.

"Imagine the mental caliber of a jury passed through such a screen! They would have to be either totally indifferent, morons or completely friends of the Soviet Union. Imagine the bias of a judge who permitted such a screen, to say nothing of his abrupt and surprise rulings on the evidence. But above all, what was wrong with the Department of Justice prosecution lawyers? Twelve or more FBI men were in constant attendance, but were never given a chance to tell what they knew, and were sorely persecuted by defense lawyers. Many Russians were in daily attendance. One woman flourished Communist newspapers and periodicals with Stalin's picture in the courtroom during recess. I reported her to the bailiffs. There was a feeling of so much pressure at the trial that some Americans really began to fear. The jurors even received money through the mail, which was censored before given to them. This was reported to the Court in the absence of the jury. Newspapers were clipped by bailiffs before being allowed to the jury. Mr. Kennedy, a Britisher, chief prosecution witness, and his American wife, went through an ordeal of persecution at the hands of the defense. The prosecution was viciously attacked for not being able to produce the original papers delivered to Redin. If Redin was worth his salt, those papers are, of course, in Moscow."

It seems to me that Congress should appoint a committee to investigate the Department of Justice's failure to prosecute, or perhaps its deliberate throwing, of the Redin trial. My guess is that Harry Truman got one of his abortive spells of backbone and told the FBI to go ahead, and then weakened and allowed the fellow-travellers to tell the Department of Justice to let the defense run away with the case.

The most vicious immediate effect of the re-imposition of OPA is in the building trades. Lumber and other building materials were just emerging from the Black Market. Contractors will have to deal with Black Marketeers, and all construction will cost much more than the announced costs. It is a sad day for veterans needing housing. Unless OPA eases up at least fifteen per cent on rentals, landlords will go back to their policy of letting rooms stand vacant rather than trying to rent them at a loss under conditions which practically dispossess owners of their own property.

CERTAINLY WE HAVE SPIES IN OUR GOVERNMENT AND WHO CARES?

These five spies were caught at an important Army experimental quarters in Aberdeen, Md., Harry Spector, Irving Spector, Abraham Kotelchuck, Phil Weiss and Rheabel Mendelsohn. Congr. Record 7-19-46 (P 9578). Just some harmless fellows—good old American stock. They only wanted to steal some secrets to help deliver our country over to Russia. Nothing will be done about it. It would be so inconsistent to offend these five Stalin agents because we have three or four thousand of them in our State Department.

Canada did, but that was before the Reds got too strong. President Truman could get them all cleaned out in one week if he would appoint one of the following men in Jim Byrnes place and let Byrnes and Ben Cohen continue to play with Molotov.

Appoint one of these men as Secretary of State and there will be nothing more said about Reds in that Department — John Bricker, Jack Garner, Former Senator Nye, Hamilton Fish, John L. Lewis, Senator Taft, Burton Wheeler or Upton Close.

NUREMBERG TRIAL

By E. W. P. Veale in the London Peace News, May 31:

"That the victors' conduct is far from unsullied is common knowledge; yet the 'Trial of War Criminals' deals with offences from one side only. Thus Admiral Doenitz is confronted with the 'murder' of 30,000 British able-bodied seamen on the high seas in wartime, mostly sailing in strongly protected convoys; and as much on active service as any crew of a tank or battleplane. But the commander, whose men in one night slew 25,000 hapless refugees, mostly women and children, in the open city of Dresden, is not called upon to defend this massacre of defenceless non-combatants, the weak, the sick and the aged.

"That such a blatant contrast between the penalization of the vanquished and the immunity of the victors will act as a deterrent in the next war is in the highest degree impossible."

U. S. NAVAL INTELLIGENCE REPORT IN 1935

"A major problem is not only the Communist with his philosophy of hatred, destruction, and revolt; but individuals, supposedly intelligent, occupying positions above the average in life, whose names and works, carry with them a certain prestige, and who, although themselves not subscribing to the Communist program, philosophy, and doctrines, pick certain sections of the Communist program to promote, uphold and expanse. These are the 'fringe revolutionists' too lacking in intestinal fortitude to go all the way with Communism, but who stand by and urge the Communist to do his worst, and provide him with protection, sympathy, and defense while he commits the avert act they have not had the courage to commit themselves."

NATIONAL LAWYERS GUILD

Identified by Red leader Earl Browder as a "transmission belt" for the dissemination of Communist propaganda. Among most active in organizing the Guild and later serving on important committees:

Charles Recht, chief attorney for the Soviet Union in the U.S.A.; Joseph Brodsky, General Counsel of the Communist Party, U.S.A.; Max Frimmell, Counsel of the New York State Communist Party; and Carol Weiss King, one of the five original owners of the Daily Worker, Communist newspaper and currently in the limelight as Attorney for Harry Bridges.

COMMUNISM HAS TO BE SUBDUED BY STRONG OPPOSITION AND MONEY

Some people react to Communism like they do to an ailment. They don't want to know how serious it is.

America has the Communist cancer and it won't be cured with TALCUM POWDER. It is going to take fearless men and women to whip Communism, as the Communist has been educated to sacrifice all for their belief. They give their money and are never too tired to do something after working hours to help Communism. They will not be convinced they are wrong, and will give up their lives in defense. No half-way measures on our part will stop them. It is going to take all of us to save America—if it can still be saved. They are as hard as steel and we will have to be harder. They are clever and tricky, and we will have to be smarter.

If we do not go all the way in this fight we will lose. They will stop at nothing.

America will not be saved by sitting at your desk and cursing the Reds for what they are doing to our country. You will need to get out and work, or back someone up who does. It is going to take real money. Communists apparently have unlimited funds backing several hundred newspapers, magazines and nearly five hundred fronts, under camouflaged names.

"THINK-WEEKLY" can be the most powerful weapon against them if a sufficient number of patriots get behind it.

It is one paper that people really read.

LET "THINK-WEEKLY" BE YOUR WEAPON AGAINST THE FIFTH COLUMN.

INCREASE CIRCULATION FOR NOVEMBER ELECTION

Our goal is to triple the circulation of THINK-WEEKLY by November and do something worth while to prevent the REDS from gaining complete control of Congress.

All of the 435 Representatives and 35 of the 96 Senators are up for election. If the REDS gain control, they will pass laws to regiment industry, labor, schools, religion, medicine, and hospitals. They will prohibit the publication of all papers like THINK-WEEKLY. If one should protest he will be placed quickly into a concentration camp and classified as a FASCIST.

thought, but that does not mean that freedom of thought does not exist."

There is nothing objectionable in these broad assertions. Except for that fact that the magazine is presumably financed by outside sources for ulterior purposes, the editorial attitude is part of the game played universally in the sacrosanct name of freedom of speech.

And since outright falsehoods parade under the protection of freedom of speech, we must also invoke the same freedom to combat them. If the liberals of Japan really enjoyed freedom under the occupation authorities, it would not be difficult for them to enlighten their fellow-countrymen as to the true state of affairs in the Soviet Union, and thus rout propaganda of falsehood financed from alien sources.

A plethora of books and articles exploding the myth of Red Utopia has been published in America. Japanese liberals would, one may be sure, welcome and translate such publications, if they were free to publish them. But are they?

Let us explain this point with a concrete, though hypothetical, example. Kravchenko's I Chose Freedom; Bullitt's The Great Globe Itself; Krivitsky's In Stalin's Secret Service—such books could readily be translated into Japanese and put on the market there. But would not the Soviet Government, as one of Japan's conquerors, demand that the Allied administration at Tokyo clamp down upon such publications, even though they were put out purely as a commercial enterprise? Judging from the great indignation with which Moscow greeted even such mild criticisms as were recently expressed by Mr. Brooks Atkinson in the New York Times, one may be sure that the Kremlin will not connive at the publication in a vanquished country of revelations far more devastating to Stalin's dictatorship.

The probable Soviet objection might be ignored or overridden by the Allied administration if the United States, the dominant Power in that administration, would itself take a tolerant view of the new freedom bestowed upon Japan. This would involve permission to translate and circulate American books of the nature of, let us say, Scott Nearing's Dollar Diplomacy, a denunciation of American "imperialism"; or of Ferdinand Lundberg's America's Sixty Families, an indictment of the zaibatsu on this side of the Pacific.

If the American representatives in the GHQ at Tokyo would not tolerate the dissemination of books unflattering to the United States, they would logically have to countenance Soviet objection to similar criticism of the Russian situation. And the Japanese public would then see only that side of the foreign shield which the Allies, individually or collectively, would have it see. Such a public is more susceptible to Red propaganda than one free to read and write as it pleases.

Especially is this true where ignorance joins hands with hunger. And Mrs. Kanjo Kato, feminist and "congresswoman", recently called on General MacArthur especially to tell him that "we are all of us very hungry". No doubt hunger has something to do with the mushrooming of Red publications in Japan, for starving scribes may be willing or forced to sacrifice their own consciences and convictions.

IV

Thanks to 15 years of "thought control", under militarist domination, Japan has developed a sort of intellectual vacuum. Its people, always avid, omnivorous readers, are starving for knowledge and information, particularly about the outside world. They crave free reading, free thinking, free discussion, with no controlling power hanging like a sword of Damocles over their heads. When the victorious Allies proclaimed such freedom for the Japanese it was to them as though light had burst upon an arctic night.

Obviously the occupational authorities are constrained to exercise a certain amount of control over the proclaimed freedom. Such control is justifiable both to maintain the security of the occupation forces and to uphold the dignity and prestige of the Powers concerned.

Thus the Japanese press is restrained from reporting crimes committed by GIs, the increasing frequency of which caused Lieutenant General Eichelberger at Tokyo to issue a stern warning declaring that misconduct of American troops in Japan had reached a point of "endangering the mission of the occupation". Perhaps Japanese editors should voluntarily refrain from publishing news of this nature, even if permissible.

But there are far more important items which the Japanese press is not free to publish—to which it is probably not allowed access—but which, if published, might add greatly to the prestige of the United States. When, for instance, so distinguished an educator as Chancellor Robert Hutchins, of the University of Chicago, denounces the use of atomic bombs upon Hiroshima and Nagasaki as inhuman, unnecessary and a violation of International Law, it is important news and has been regarded as such in America. The denunciation strikes a responsive chord in the American heart, for, when all has been said and done, Americans are the most kind-hearted people on earth.

Suppose that President Hutchins' statements were widely published in Japan, what would be the Japanese reaction? I am certain that the Japanese would recognize in them America's real greatness—a greatness not in terms of destructive and destructible bombs and guns and fleets but in terms of that lasting idealism and spirituality which, in the last analysis, constitutes the distinguishing quality of a great nation.

Americans, in retrospect, increasingly deplore the wholesale ejection of 100,000 Japanese from the Pacific Coast, in 1942. Professor Eugene V. Rostow, of Yale University, calls it "a threat to society and to all men". On the genesis of Pearl Harbor itself divergent views will develop in the years ahead, as indicated in the majority and minority reports of the congressional committee concerned.

In all these discussions the Japanese, if permitted to hear both sides, would see America's real greatness. For only a great nation is capable of admitting its own blunders and of criticising its own rulers.

BOLSHEVISM ANNIHILATES CHRISTIAN CIVILIZATION

"Communism abolishes eternal truths, it abolishes all religion, and all morality; — it therefore acts in contradiction to all past experience." (Karl Marx, Manifesto, p.29, MKR., p.123).

" — — — Communist consciousness, the cause of Socialism, itself, calls for a mass change in human nature, which can be achieved only in the course of the practical revolution. Hence, revolution is not only necessary because there is no other way of overthrowing the ruling class (bourgeoisie), but also because, only in the process of revolution is the overthrowing class (Communists, proletariat) to purge itself of the dross of the old society and become capable of creating a new society." (Program of the Communist International, p.52).

And, in the process, according to the Marx-Engels-Lenin-Stalin-Bolshevik master-ship capitalism, or the "old" society and the "old" form of government, are wiped out, Christian Civilization is destroyed and the hated Neronian system of Godless, Marxist, Bolshevism is installed. (Foundation of Leninism, Stalin, p.46! MKR., p.123.)
